Simon Lee

Information for Patients

Simon graduated from Newcastle Dental School in 2009 and went on to complete vocational training in his hometown of Stockton on Tees and continued to provide mixed NHS/Private dentistry in practices in the North East.

In 2014 Simon passed the MJDF examination from the Royal College of surgeons London and is a member of the Joint Dental Faculties.

Developing a real passion for cosmetic dentistry Simon decided to take a postgraduate course in Aesthetic and Restorative dentistry in London run by the renowned Dr Christopher Orr.

Simon has an interest in minimally invasive techniques in restoring and improving smiles such as composite bonding, veneers, crowns/ onlays and use of orthodontic systems such as Six Month Smiles. His aim is to provide high quality dentistry in a relaxed and caring environment.

Outside work Simon is a devoted husband and dad and tries to spend as much time with his little girl as he can. To wind down he enjoys playing the piano, guitar and likes to travel and explore new countries when time permits.
